

Messenger Muhammad:

STAND UP FOR TRUE FREEDOM

We Need Not Have Fear for Future

By ELIJAH MUHAMMAD

"Or do they say: He has forged it? Nay, it is the Truth from thy Lord that thou mayest warn a people to whom no warner has come before thee that they may walk aright." Holy Qur-an 32-3.

These are the words of disbelievers and hypocrites that are mentioned in the above verse. The disbelievers and hypocrites of prophets and messengers of God never want to give them credit and honor, and bear witness with them in saying that the message they are delivering to the people is from the Lord of the Worlds (God).

They always wish to give the lie to what a Divine Messenger or Warner brings to the people from God. They say he has forged it, or it is his own makings; it is not what God said, it is his sayings. These are the words of disbelievers, hypocrites, and proud ones against the truth and the bearers of truth.

The above verse says to the Messenger that he is to warn a people to whom no warner has come before him. Many of the writers on the history of Muhammad (may the peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) of nearly fourteen hundred years ago, write that Muhammad was the first prophet that Mecca had ever seen. Even Maulana Muhammad Ali, who translated the Holy Qur-an in English, says in his footnotes on this verse, that Muhammad was the first prophet that Mecca had ever seen; and that he was raised among the descendants of Ishmael.

How do the scholars and writers of Islam say such when, if they make Muhammad a descendant of Ishmael, they are condemning their own sayings that he was the first prophet of Mecca, when both DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika—I had no plans to end the year on this vast continent—the cradle of civilization—but here I am in Tanganyika, where it is a beautiful 90 degrees in the shade and where the young and charming Julius Nyerere presides as President.

The surge of freedom trembled the rich African earth during the 12 months of last year and it was a nervous and fitful Africa that closed out 1963 for historians of the future to ponder.

Howard

Kenya finally became free during 1963's 12th month. What a belated independence! A steadily shrinking Britain had found Jomo Kenyatta, the "Burning Spear," the hardest of all African freedom fighters to accept. It was in Kenya, which in part forms the rugged northern border of this country, that the African surge for freedom began. And it was Kenyatta who lit the torch for that freedom drive.

Next to the independence of Kenya and Zanzibar, African freedom fighters hail as an event for rejoicing the break-up of the hated Central African Federation (Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland).

AFRICANS have long fought to smash this "unholy weapon" of Sir Roy Welensky, the man who swore to do everything in his power to halt the advance of African nationalism.

Funeral services for the Federation are being held throughout Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia.

Not so in Southern Rhodesia.

There, the minority white government remains to be overthrown, or ousted by some less violent means.

NO ASSESSMENT of African affairs can fail to recount the moves of President Nkrumah of Ghana, who continues to move forward in the way he feels is best for his country. President Nkrumah drew headlines during 1963 for sacking the chief justice of the Ghana Supreme Court, whom Ghanaians seemed to feel had let the country down. Failing Ghana is the one offense that will bring action from Nkrumah faster than anything else.

In Southern Rhodesia, Joshua Nkomo and his opposition, Rev. Sithole, continue to menace one another and are apparently making little contribution to the de-throning of the white settler government of Prime Minister Winston Field.

Baldwin Hits Mallory Case

NEW YORK — Calling the Mae Mallory "kidnap" case "crucial for the civil-rights" efforts in America, James Baldwin, noted writer and equal rights champion, urged the full weight of the Negro people be thrown behind the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants and made an urgent appeal for contributions to the defense.

The case — in which Mrs. Mallory and three young men defendants, Richard Crowder, 19, and Harold Reape, 17, of the Monroe (N.C.) Non-Violent Action Committee, and John Lowry, 20, a white freedom rider from New York, face possible life sentences — is "crucial for the civil-rights movement and for justice in America," Baldwin said after joining the CAMD as a sponsor.

Mallory

He blasted the case, which may come up during the February 17 term of court in the North Carolina town, as "trumped up against those fighting racism . . . This is a 'kidnap' case in which there was no kidnapping."

In his appeal, Baldwin wrote that "for almost two-and-a-half years now the prosecution has refused to bring the three young men defendants to trial."

"This is not only a denial of their constitutional right to a speedy trial, but constitutes a refined form of torture.

"The deliberate prolongation of the case also exhausted the financial resources of this defense committee and severed to dim the case in the public consciousness," he stated.

Calling for moral support and financial contributions to CAMD, Baldwin pointed out the importance of preventing "innocent people from being victimized because they fought for racial justice in America."

"The defendants must be afforded the best legal defense possible, and the facts of the case must be brought to the conscience of the American people," he wrote.

Mrs. Mallory, who spent many months in jail in Cleveland, Ohio, fought unsuccessfully to escape extradition to Monroe, N. C. Three appeals were made to the U.S. Supreme Court, and Ohio Gov. James Rhodes ignored thousands of appeals that he use his administrative power to prevent extradition.

Robert F. Williams, former Monroe NAACP president, was also charged with "kidnaping" in the case. He and his family fled for their lives to and received asylum in Cuba.

Mallory Back In Monroe Jail

MONROE, N. C. — Mrs. Mae Mallory, Negro freedom fighter who fought for more than two years against extradition to this KKK-infested town on a "trumped-up kidnapping charge," is in the county jail here. She was brought here from Cleveland, Ohio.

Atty. W. B. Nivens of Charlotte, N. C., is petitioning for bond, but the Monroe Defense Committee reported that the bond is expected to be excessively high for Mrs. Mallory—possibly $10,000.

U.S. Finally Finds Cigarets Dangerous, But— Muhammad Warned Against Tobacco Use 30 Years Ago

The Honorable Elijah Muhammad's long-standing edict against the use of tobacco and alcohol has taken on even more significance in the stormy wake of the American Government's belated report on smoking and that cigarettes are a direct cause of lung cancer and other fatal diseases.

Although the Messenger's edict against the unhealthy aspects of smoking has been well known during the 32 years of its existence, it took the U.S. Government until 1964 to take a stand against the use of cigarettes, though medical men for years have increasingly linked cigarettes with cancer.

Many industrialized nations have long since launched campaigns to protect their populations from the effects of smoking. The United States, however, with some two billions of its revenue derived directly from the 8-billion-dollar yearly tobacco industry, still has no real program against this menace.

Negroes, whose pressure-filled lives have made many among the heavier smokers and whose cancer death rate is higher than that of whites, appeared particularly dismayed by the report of the 10-man surgeon general's advisory committee, which had studied the lives and deaths of thousands of cigarette-smoking Americans for 14 months, and concluded that cigarettes were a deadly peril.

Muhammad Speaks interviews revealed that, in the main, many confirmed smokers were seriously considering a "change."

"I'm really shaken up over the Government's report," said top Chicago hair stylist Paul Ramon, 36, who started smoking when he was eight years old and now smokes 3 packs of filter-tips a day. "Using chewing gum as a substitute, I plan to cut down gradually," Paul said, pausing to light another cigarette.

"I won't switch to cigars or a pipe because I think tobacco in any form will still expose you to those deadly nicotine tars," and Paul inhaled deeply.

Mrs. Betty Jean Williams, 22-year-old mother who started smoking only recently, felt the Government report was "frightening" and plans to quit "gradually." "I've only been smoking a year," asserted Mrs. Williams, who smokes a pack a day.

"It shouldn't be hard for me to quit, I suppose. And I'll do everything I can to protect my daughter from such a killer."

But another mother, proof reader Armenta Young of Cross Typesetting Company, said candidly, "I don't intend to stop smoking. In my family I'm the only woman smoker and I only smoke when I'm working."

Admitting that she thought the government findings were true concerning cigarette-smoking and cancer, she said, "I don't think smoking would be a good habit for my children, but as for me . . . I just haven't considered becoming an ex-smoker yet."

Asked by Muhammad Speaks if there was any noticeable drop in the sale of cigarettes since the U.S. anti-cigarette report, most big food or drug stores replied with a bored, "Too early to tell."

or, "can't you at least give us a couple of weeks?"

But the manager of one chain of liquor stores had already figured it out.

"Sure our cigarette sales have dropped," he said. "But we'll be alright as long as the government doesn't start monkeying with alcohol."

"Mondays were our big cigarette days. That's when people rushed in to stock up after big weekends of smoking."

"Now our Monday sales have been cut in half. One regular Monday customer came in just to tell why he wasn't buying."

"He said, 'I smoked two packs a day; my wife smoked one and so did our teen-age daughter. The report has made all three of us quit. We won't smoke another cigarette.' Then he walked out."

"Of course," said the manager, "the cigarette drop does not really bother us. We sell cigarettes at cost and use them as a leader. We get the people in, then sell them liquor. That's where we make our money."

"We're safe as long as the government doesn't start monkeying with alcohol," he said hopefully.

Following are excerpts from the report on smoking and health by an advisory committee to the Surgeon General:

Mortality

The death rate for smokers of cigarettes only, who were smoking at the time of entry into the particular prospective study, is about 70 per cent higher than that for nonsmokers.

The death rates increase with the amount smoked. For groups of men smoking less than 10, 10-19, 20-39, and 40 or more cigarettes daily, respectively, the death rates are about 40 per cent, 70 per cent, 90 per cent and 120 per cent higher than for nonsmokers.

The ratio of the death rates of smokers to nonsmokers is highest at the earlier ages (40-50) represented in these studies, and declines with increasing age.

The same effect appears to hold for the ratio of the death rate of heavy smokers to that of light smokers. In the studies that provided this information, the mortality ratios of cigarette smokers to nonsmokers are substantially higher for men who started to smoke under age 20 than for men who started after age 25.

The mortality ratio was increased as the number of years of smoking increased. In two studies that recorded the degree of inhalation, the mortality ratio for a given amount of smoking was greater for inhalers than for noninhalers.

Cigarette smokers who stopped smoking before enrollment in the study had mortality ratios about 1.4 as against 1.7 for current cigarette smokers. The mortality ratio of former cigarette smokers increased with the number of years of smoking and was higher for those who stopped after age 55 than for those who stopped at an earlier age.

The biases from nonresponse and from errors of measurement that are difficult to avoid in mass studies may have resulted in some over-estimation of the true mortality ratios for the complete populations. In our judgment, however, such biases can account for only a part of the elevation in mortality ratios found for cigarette smokers.

Rates for Cigar, Pipe Smokers

Death rates of cigar smokers are about the same as those of nonsmokers for men smoking less than five cigars daily. For men smoking five or more cigars daily, death rates were slightly higher (9 per cent to 27 per cent) than for nonsmokers in the four studies that gave this information.

There is some indication that this higher death rate occurs primarily in men who have been smoking for more than 30 years and in men who stated that they inhaled the smoke to some degree.

Death rates for current pipe smokers were little if at all higher than for nonsmokers, even with men smoking 10 or more pipefuls a day and with men who had smoked pipes for more than 30 years.

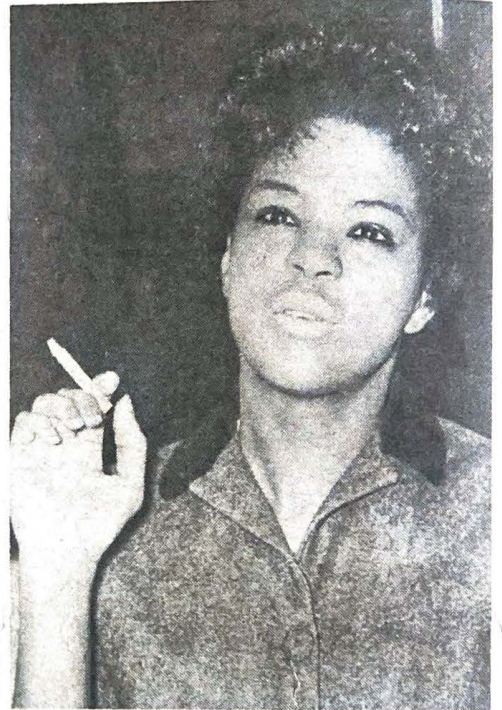

Former cigar and pipe smokers, on the other hand, showed higher death rates than both nonsmokers and current pipe or cigar smokers in four out of five studies. The explanation isn't clear but may be that a substantial number of such smokers stopped because of illness.

Mortality by Cause of Death

In the combined results from the seven prospective studies, the mortality ratio of cigarette smokers was particularly high for a number of diseases. There is a further group of diseases, including some of the most important chronic diseases, for which the mortality ratio for cigarette smokers lay between 1.2 and 2.0.

The explanation of the moderate elevations in mortality ratios in this large group of causes isn't clear. Part may be due to the sources of bias previously mentioned or to some constitutional and genetic differences between cigarette smokers and nonsmokers.

She's Quitting...

MRS. BETTY JEAN WILLIAMS, mother, felt government report was "frightening." She plans to quit smoking.

So You've Just GOT to Have That Cigaret?

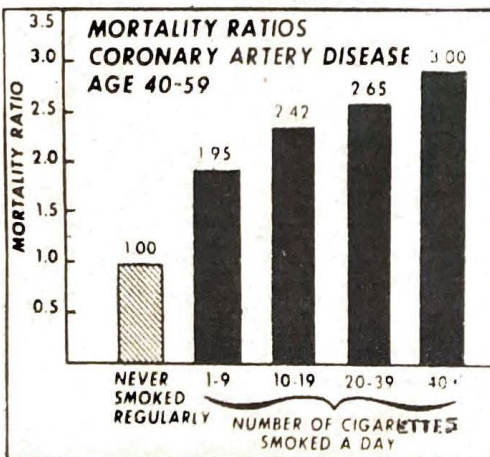

Although Negroes are little more than 10 per cent of the population, the Negro cancer death rate is 12 per cent higher than the rest of the population, according to the American Cancer Society as reported by Dorothy I. Height, president of the National Council of Negro Women.

The uterine cancer death rate among Negro women is twice as high as among white women.

The total cancer death rate of Negro men is almost twice the rate of 20 years ago.

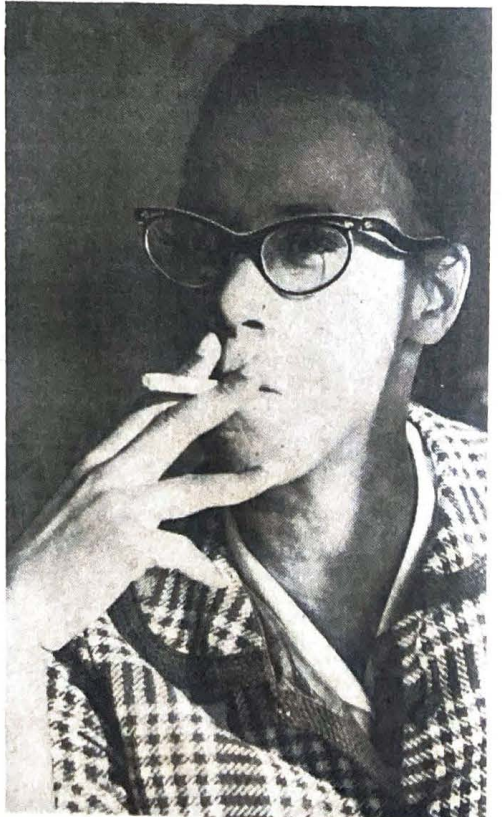

Cancer kills 65 Negroes every day—one every 25 minutes, or about 25,000 yearly.

Although research already has contributed enough information to make possible the saving of 50 per cent of all cancer cases—provided they are treated promptly and properly—only 33 per cent of the entire population—white as well as Negro—are actually cured.

In St. Louis, the-- Biggest Bank Break-in!

Everything Segregated But Money

(Special to Muhammad Speaks)

ST. LOUIS—Justifiable efforts to break into a bank with more men than ever mustered by Jesse James or John Dillinger, are now underway here on the banks of the Mississippi River.

Hundreds of Negro pickets have fought for months against vicious police brutality, threats and intimidation to end the white-supremacy policy of the Jefferson Bank and Trust Company, itself a symbol of the multi-million-dollar depositories across the nation.

The campaign is under the leadership of CORE, whose leaders point out that although American banking systems hold untold millions of dollars of money belonging to Negroes as well as from Negro-supported city and state taxes, the refusal of the big banks to employ or train Negro accountants, cashiers, clerks, managers, etc., constitutes a grave threat to the possibility of developing trained Negro personnel even to operate Negro-owned institutions.

The outcome of this unusual demonstration, although ignored by the nation's white press, is said to be watched carefully by white bank presidents throughout the nation.

CORE MOVED into the drive against Jefferson Bank after its officials welched on an agreement to hire Negroes on a merit basis, but had studiously refused to offer more than one Negro a white-collar job.

CORE's drive is under the direction of youthful Robert B. Curtis, who led the demonstration staged in the lobby of the Jefferson Bank, side-stepping a temporary retraining order issued earlier in the afternoon by Circuit Court Judge Michael Scott.

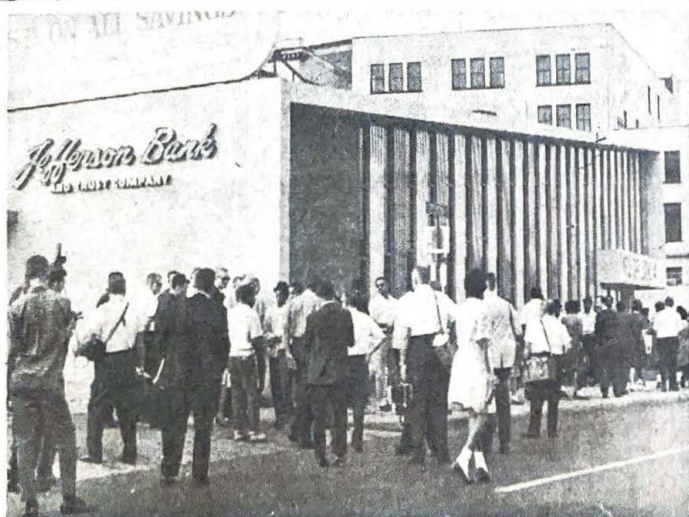

The city's police rushed to the support of the bank's Jim-crow policies, pushing and shoving demonstrators, injuring scores and leaving other fallen demonstrators with the prints of policemen's feet on their legs, backs and arms.

They loaded the demonstrators into vans like cattle

It Happened in St. Louis:

Jail Alderman Who Fought Bank's Bias

ST. LOUIS — A militant Negro alderman, 33-year-old William Clay of the 26th Ward, was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $1,000 for his part in a civil rights demonstration to force a big St. Louis bank to end its policy of racial discrimination against Negroes.

The ruthless slap-down of a Negro alderman by an appellate court came along with stiff fines and jail sentences for 14 other demonstrators in the continuing struggle to force the multi-million dollar banking institution to give fair play to its Negro depositors. Democratic Ward Committeeman Norman Seay, also of the 26th Ward, was given 60 days in jail and a fine of $500 along with Ald. Clay.

The unprecedented jailing of the Democratic Negro alderman by a Democratic judge in this Democratic dominated city was seen here as ruthless retaliation against one of the few Negro politicians who placed the interest of their people above the usual lily-white party line of the Republican and Democratic parties. Other top leaders jailed here include Lucian Richards, president of the St. Louis chapter of CORE, and a number of Negro students and housewives. Ages of those sentenced range from 18 to 34.

LOUIS FORD placed himself across the entrance to the Jefferson Bank while police (background) watched. Later, Ford was among those arrested and thrown into jail.

and hauled them to jail again and again. Demonstrators were tossed to the floors of police vehicles, stuffed through the doors like old rags but as the trucks rolled off with their human cargo, voices from inside chanted "Freedom Now!"

Plan Negro History Week Observance in Chicago

Negro History Week—Feb. 9-15—is expected to have its greatest impact this year against the backdrop of last year's militancy by civil rights groups.

Nineteen demonstrators were convicted of violation of a judge's restraining order issued to prohibit "interference with business at the Jefferson Bank."

Held in city jail without bond, they were not allowed to see the light of day, to attend schools or to pursue their daily occupations.

Members from five groups helped form the Chicago Negro History Council, which promote the Chicago and Illinois observance. Appeals for official proclamations will be made to Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The Council, with its base of operations in the Museum of Negro History and Art, 3806 S. Michigan Ave., plans to sponsor a dance celebration during Negro History Week and a public meeting on Feb. 23, a memorial to Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, the late historian, poet and social scientist.

The Fire of Egypt's Revolution Still Burns Bright

By Herbert Muhammad

President Nasser

Herbert Muhammad

CAIRO:—When President Gamal Abdel Nasser first said that modern Egypt would outstrip all the wonders and glories of its ancient days—the Western press openly scoffed and the imperialist powers simply redoubled their efforts to bury the revolution before it got above ground.

That was eleven years ago.

There were only few knowledgeable men to whom this was anything but a nationalist dream, impossible of achievement on the African continent.

But among those few who knew that Egypt, free from centuries of oppression and exploitation, would leap into a prominence unheard of even in the days of the Pharaohs, was my own father, the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, who had revealed not only to me, but to thousands of our people in America the truth about the past and future destiny of Africa, and Asia, and the American Negro.

I first visited the land of our ancestors in 1959, in the company with my father. Since my earliest childhood, he had prepared me to accept and understand the astonishing evidence of the great black civilizations that had arisen on the banks of the Nile during the earliest dawn of mankind.

Thus each time my foot touch the sands of Egypt, I see a fulfillment of my father's prophetic teachings. As I appraised Egypt on this trip, I realize that the same force of creativity that had enabled this land to give the world its first inkling of geometry, astronomy, a modern numbers systems, its first real art, its basis of modern medicine, much of it still unmatched to this day, were active here now.

My father's teachings had prepared me for the great wave of the Egyptian revolution which struck the world with such explosive force in 1952, and which set about building a new kind of society, totally different from the old Western Christian systems.

As President Nasser defined it: "The Revolution shall become by the people as well as for the people and for their interest . . . It is a revolution for the people to realize their aspirations, political and social democracy and social justice."

To what extent have these goals been realized? What is the mood and outlook of Egyptians after eleven years of pioneering and sacrifices, attempting to achieve, within a short period, what it took Western nations centuries to accomplish?

I believe even the most critical observer, inside or outside of Egypt, would have to admit that despite some set-backs and European-made handicaps, the Egyptian people continue to accomplish progressive changes in a manner both vivid and inspiring.

On a previous visit, I had toured the great Aswan Dam, a utility mightier and more significant to African than any pyramid any Pharaoh ever built. Costing billions of dollars and financed with the assistance of the Soviet Union, the Aswan will change the lives of millions of Africans and will establish the firmest basis for modern industry to be found anywhere in the world.

I saw Egypt's Suez Canal area, with its passage of innumerable ships by Egyptian pilots — pilots which white European powers had declared could "never make the canal work." Egypt's courageous struggle for the ownership and control of the Suez — its own possession — makes it easier to understand the current struggle of the peoples of Panama now for some realistic control of their own canal.

Again I recall my father's earlier teachings, and one in particular in which he foreseen the outcome of the Panama and Suez canals. That was thirty years ago and every step in the march of time is bearing this out.

For the facts stands out here in Cairo, that the revolution of Egypt not only awakened the possibilities of EGYPTIAN FATHER AND SON who were hosts to the son of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad during his recent tour of Egypt were Mr. Mahmoud Sherif (left) and his son, Mr. Sherif is looking forward to a post in America, teaching Arabic.

Make America Know Her Sins

(Because of the timeliness of this message by Mr. Muhammad, we print it in place of Prayer Service in Islam, which will be resumed in the next issue.)

By ELIJAH MUHAMMAD

The doom of America approaches and there are many people who do not really know why. There are also many people who would not like to know. As I have always said, truth hurts; especially the guilty. It is the expressed purpose of the coming of God, whose proper name is Allah, to make manifest the sins of a people who He would destroy, justifying His destruction of that people.

America represents herself as a Christian nation. Which means that they are followers of Jesus, whom they call the Christ, and say that they are crystalized into him and God and have become one. As they say, God the Father and Jesus the son and the Holy Ghost.

They profess to be a friend and defenders of all peace-loving and freedom-loving people. The only people we really see that she wants to be a friend to is herself and kind. They are really sincere when they say that they are freedom-loving people. Above all, the white man, the world over, wants to be free to rule and dominate the aboriginal people.

Today America's doom is set like a die. She cannot escape; it is impossible. For her to escape would classify the prophets of God and God Himself as predicting lies. When God appeared to me in the person of Master Fard Muhammad, to whom praises are due forever, in 1931 in Detroit, Michigan, He said that America was His number-one enemy on His list for destruction.

While He mentioned other European whites as getting a little extension of time, He singled America and Germany out as being the two worst, vicious, evil, destructive, trouble-makers of the entire nation of earth. And that America had mistreated us (the so-called American Negroes) so much that she cannot be equally paid back for the evils she has done to the poor black slaves.

There are thousands and ten's of thousands of American so-called Negroes; and in those ten's of thousand is such professional and educated class of people as preachers, ministers of the white man's Christianity, even scientists, scholars of many kinds, and technicians of all kinds who have become submerged into the love and worship of the white race because of advantages.

Today they preach the gospel of being an American citizen and worship equally their intermarriage with white Americans who used the black women from the time they were brought here 400 years ago until this very day, like they would their stock and cattle.

It is a perfect shame and disgrace to see men of the black nation professing themselves to be spiritual guides of God and His people, endorsing and backing the rule of the enemy who has spoiled and exploited them to the extent that they are not recognized even among their own kind outside America. These ignorant black people will oppose anyone who preaches freedom, justice, and equality, and some of this earth that we can call our own.

It is clear that such a spiritual leader as this is more an enemy to his people than the real devil (Caucasian). They want to please the enemy at the expense and destruction of their own people. They are more upset (the clergy) over the preaching of justice for our people and a home on this earth that we can call our own the white man himself.

They hope, as I said, to always say, preach, teach, pray, sing, and act in a way which pleases the slavemaster of their fathers and his children. They are a class of "Uncle Toms" and "Stool Pigeons."

They are the first to go to the policemen and F.B.I. seeking persecution for those who stand for freedom, justice, and equality and independence for the black man of America by their admired and worshipped enemy (the white race). They will accuse them of trying to overthrow the government or even with causing trouble.

The white man has looked into their faces many times as into their children's faces and cursed them and called them black Negroes and told us to our faces that they hate us and should kill us.

All of my life, I have heard this and all of their lives, they have heard the same from the mouths of these people. But today they wish to save their skin by sacrificing their poor, blind, deaf and dumb people to the destroyer for their own selfish gains.

I have begged and begged for many years for just a conference with them; they will not come near. But they will go to the white man and beg him to drive Elijah and his followers out and even kill them. This is the enemy; but Elijah Muhammad is laid as a stumbling stone. That stone that has been rejected by the builders. And whosoever falls on that stone will be broken to pieces and whosoever the stone falls upon will be ground into powder.

No wonder the Bible says: woe unto such professional class that stand in the way of those who would enter the Kingdom of Heaven: They refuse to go in themselves and seek to prevent those who are trying to enter.

I am sorry for my poor people who should be helping in the right way to get a permanent future of freedom, justice and equality, and who now, due to fear, are doing everything to oppose it. They are dumb enough to the knowledge of the scripture to what God has prophesied He would do in this day and time, and they make mockery even of the Messenger of God because God did not choose one of them or one of their prided politicians. They make mockery of him as being too ignorant to lead them.

But let them tell you what type of an Apostle or prophet God promised them. Was it a man from among the professional class? Was it a man from some of the enemy's colleges and universities with an arm full of degrees coming from these institutions of learning of the enemy?

Let them read their scriptures and see what type of a man God promised to choose for a last messenger. How many of the prophets in the past were educated men of the civilization in which they were born before the call of God?

The sins of America are terrible. She has risen up in this part of the earth which was forsaken and bewildered by all our people for thousands and thousands of years and was used for a kind of exile continent. The white man came out of Europe in desperation seeking a place to expand and began to kill the aboriginals of this continent (the Red Indian) and take their homes. This was one of her great sins.

He has left a remnant of that people for the sake of mockery and for his children to see the people their fathers conquered in taking this land of the Indians for their own land (as they call it today). God never intended that the people of the earth go about killing each other to rob each other of their homes. It was never done by anyone but the white race.

He was not satisfied in killing all the aboriginals here to take their homes, but went back into the old world of Africa and Asia, deceived and brought our fathers here for no other purpose than to make them slaves and to experiment on them.

They have never been a friend to us nor do they ever intend to be. They cannot be a friend because they were not created in any such nature to be a true friend to anyone, not even to themselves. Today she is being upset with wars; little skirmishes breaking out here and there over the earth keeping her busy running from one fire to the other trying to prevent the fire from spreading into a national or international fire.

She must get a taste of what she has put upon other people. Therefore, Almighty God Himself is stirring up the nations of the earth against her. And as it is written, they shall come against her as she has gone against other people and taken away their wealth and brought it and poured it into her treasures, so shall it be done to her. This will be continued in the next article.

Scientist Sponsors of Cuba Disaster Relief

NEW YORK — Nobel Laureate Linus Pauling and his wife, Ava, are among a list of distinguished educators, religious, business and political sponsors of an Emergency Committee for Disaster Relief to Cuba, which recently sent its sixth weekly shipment of medical aid to relieve hurricane victims there.

The Committee's application to ship powdered milk, which is high on the list of disaster priorities, was rejected by the Commerce Department, and is being appealed, according to Committee Chairman Sidney J. Gluck.

We Need Not Have Fear of Future

Abraham and Ishmael were prophets according to the Holy Qur-an. Even the Bible and all religious people recognize Abraham as being a prophet.

So, therefore, Muhammad could not have been the first prophet, because the very significance of the signs that Abraham and Ishmael built in Mecca tells us much about the type of prophet and people that would be raised up in the last days. So how can they say that this revelation refers to Mecca, the Meccans and Muhammad?

It reads: "thou mayest warn a people to whom no warner has come before that they may walk aright." This condemns the very fundamental teaching of the origination of the Prophets and Guides for the people coming from that direction—from the East. Mecca has been a sacred place. God, Himself, has protected its sacredness every since time immortal.

How then could this be a savage and unknown of the righteous and of even a righteous warner if there was not righteousness in that city; if there was not the will of God to keep that city sacred and deserving as a sign of righteousness?

Then how can the scholars say that it has not even seen a prophet or a warner from Allah? Would Abraham and Ishmael have chosen a more wicked place to set up a sign of the last warner and his people of which the Kaaba and black stone represents?

The very words "to whom no warner has come before," that they put in a book that is called the last revelation of Allah to the people could not mean Mecca. Because the last warner and the last people to whom prophets and the truth have never come to, is the same people that the Bible and Holy Qur-an refer to as being blind, deaf, dumb, and (mentally) dead, who must be resurrected before there can be a judgment of the wicked.

No people answers this description better than the American so-called Negroes. And there is no country that represents that description, where no prophets have been sent, better than America. As far back as history takes us of America, we find no prophet of Allah preaching Islam or warning the people in the Western Hemisphere of a coming judgment, and to submit to the will of Allah that they may be saved from the destruction of that day. It is America.

The prayer of Abraham does not refer to the raising up of a prophet in Arabia. But a prophet among that particular seed or people of his, who would be lost somewhere on the earth among infidels, who must be searched for, located and found, and a teacher given to them from Allah to teach and warn them of the purpose of Allah, and the purpose of the Messenger being raised among them.

The Bible gives us a very clear prophecy and knowledge of this particular last messenger in many places: That he is the first and the last who will be among that people, because they would be the only and last people who would be without the guidance of Allah at the end of the world, and must be guided into the path of Allah if they are to be saved from the destruction of the enemies of Allah who had deceived and now hold that people in bondage—the true descendants of Ishmael of whom Ishmael himself was a prototype, and his mother the outcast.

They are many erroneous mistakes made by the scholars and scientists that have caused much misunderstanding of the truth. There are many Arabs throughout the world who cannot bear witness to anyone that another messenger would rise up after Muhammad who was here nearly fourteen hundred years ago. This is due to their misunderstanding of the Holy Qur-an, and the scriptures of the Prophets Abraham, Moses, Jesus, and even Muhammad, himself.

They forget that the Bible prophesies of a lost member of the nation, of the original people of the earth, who would be lost somewhere on the earth. But neither the Bible or the Holy Qur-an specifies the place. The nearest the Bible comes to it is that they would be lost in the wilderness. That fits America.

And Moses says that God told him (Deut. 18:18) "I

Women of Tanganyika

KILIMANJARO, Africa's highest and most storied mountain, gleams in the background as Tanganyika mother and daughter carry produce along a highway in Tanganyika's northern region. This woman and her child have always lived within sight of Kilimanjaro, at 19,340 ft. peak capped with permanent snow and glaciers though it is within 200 miles of the Equator.

will raise them up a prophet from among thy brethren like unto thee and will but my words in his mouth, and he shall speak unto them all that I command him."

This is an answer or a prophecy that compares with the prayer of Abraham: That God raised up a messenger from among them and taught him the wisdom and the book, because his people would not have a knowledge of the book, and were only guessing at its meaning. This book is referring to the Bible that they were guessing at its meaning.

This is true! Thousands of preachers here are preaching the Bible and do not understand the true meaning of it. They only guess at its meaning.

There is no such thing that the Bible was being taught and preached by the Arab people before Muhammad. The Torah was used among the Jewish people, but not in the vicinity of Mecca and its inhabitants. A prophet would be raised among a people that the Holy Qur-an and Bible do not give the direct place where this people would be, that this man would be like Moses. Moses was raised among his brethren to warn and guide them, and they were the ones who rejected him at first. And it was Moses that God spoke to that a last messenger would be like him.

Moses' people hadn't had a prophet to come to them from God before the raising up of Moses, and they did not know the scriptures because Pharaoh had them worshipping in his false religion. Therefore, Moses had to preach a new God and a new religion to the Hebrews, and give them a new concept of God and His religion.

So shall it be with the last messenger. His people must be taught of the true God and that God's true religion, which the slavemasters did not teach them of. The Holy Qur-an backs up the truth of Allah, that He always raises among a people whom He would warn an apostle from among them.

If Allah would warn America and the poor slaves who have been blinded and made deaf and dumb by their masters, should not that messenger be one of the so-called Negroes instead of a so-called Negro trying to learn from what Muhammad said to the Arabs nearly fourteen hundred years ago, which is a guide for us today? But it does not stop there.

We have to have something more; therefore, the Holy Qur-an prophesies of another scripture being given, and

"What Islam Has Done For Me..."

Islam Solution to Family's Problems

By Ruby X Thompson
(Fort Lauderdale, Florida)

Like most Negroes, I thought the answer to our problem was integration; that all we had to do was qualify ourselves and we would be totally accepted by the white race. Some of my high school teachers also insisted that this was the solution to the Negro problem. I was destined to learn the error of this kind of reasoning.

I was married after I completed my high school studies. Before long, I took a course in practical nursing. This, I thought, would give me a little more status than those who worked as housemaids, cooks, etc.

After finishing the practical nursing course, I received my license and was employed by a newly-built, modern hospital.

However, I soon found out that I didn't receive any more respect than the maid or kitchen help. We all were "looked down" on and treated the same.

Furthermore, the white practical nurse working beside me received more pay when she started work than I already was earning, though I had been there longer and had been given three pay raises.

I also soon learned that my white co-workers expected me to do my share of the patients assigned to me and care, in addition, for theirs. I complained to the supervisor, but she took no action, which kept up a constant friction between my white co-workers and me.

My friends, who also were nurses, also complained about this treatment — but behind the whites' backs and never to their faces.

After my friends saw me trying to stand up for my rights, they seemed afraid to talk to me in the presence of whites. Apparently they did not want to be seen acting on a friendly basis with someone the whites considered a "trouble maker."

During this time, my husband had been attending the Mosque, and he started to tell me about the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad. I got such a thorough understanding of the Messenger's program that I knew this was the only solution to my problem and the problem of so-called Negroes.

No matter how many colleges or universities you have attended, or how many degrees you may own—without having a true knowledge of your God and yourself and following the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, you never will attain full freedom, justice or equality.

I always have loved my husband, but I love him even more for bringing to me the knowledge of the great and wonderful teachings of Islam.

I'm now 26 and he is 34, and we own our own home. We also have two fine children. We all are working in the cause of Islam. We forever thank Allah for sending to us our dear beloved leader and teacher, the Honorable Elijah Muhammad.

ELIZABETH HASSAN shows spread and pillow ensemble she sewed completely by hand and which she will present the Honorable Elijah Muhammad during the February 26th Convention. Spread has 527 small triangles, sewn and cut over a 30-day period and representing approximately 90 man-hours of labor. It was a labor of love, says Sister Hassan.

Skilled Seamstress Tells Of Long Search for Truth

By Sister Elizabeth Hassan
(Chicago, Illinois)

Before I accepted the teachings of Islam I thought I was right in my way of thinking even though I was living wrong. I thought I had Jesus in my soul and that God was an unknown spirit. I was sure that Jesus was God's only begotten son. I found I was wrong after hearing the Messenger of Allah.

Until one summer night in the year 1931 I was drinking, smoking, gambling and doing everything wrong. One of my friends came to my home at that time and told me she had heard a man say he had come to this country to take his people (the so-called Negroes) out of their pitiful condition of mental death.

His method would be to teach us the truth.

I decided to go with this person to hear the man that night. As soon as I heard the truth I accepted it. And from that day to this Allah has never stopped blessing me for embracing his TRUE religion. But that's getting ahead of the story.

As a very young girl I left my native South Carolina and came to visit my older brother in Chicago.

The year was 1927, and it sticks in my mind. Times were so hard. None of the people in our neighborhood had sufficient clothing. There was never such a thing as a stomach ache from over-eating. We seldom had a decent meal.

Being a girl, I was able to get work as a domestic. So I stayed in Chicago, hoping to be of help to my family.

I used to wonder how we could ever survive those trying times. Only a beneficent and merciful God could have saved us from the hunger and disease we were forced to live with daily.

Before accepting Islam I used to try to sew when I came home from work but my efforts were always half-hearted.

In Islam there is a class where the women are taught to cook and sew. Here I developed my skill as a seamstress.

I sell cosmetics during the day now and use this opportunity to invite all of my customers to judge Islam for themselves by a visit to our Mosque.

Many times there are two and three carloads waiting to visit our Sunday meetings. I only wish more could be accommodated so that they too could enjoy the blessings which await all in Islam.

(In the concluding installment in the next issue of Muhammad Speaks, Elizabeth Hassan tells of her slave name and her Holy name and describes how the Messenger of Allah spoke of the evils of smoking fully 32 years ago).

Eyes Republic Status

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia—Dr. Kenneth Kaunda, president of the United National Independence Party who is slated to be the country's first African prime minister, said he wants his country to become a republic as soon as it is declared independent next year.

FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE, built by the Honorable Elijah Muhammad is symbolized in these young students at the University of Islam in Chicago preparing to begin classes in the institution guided by the Messenger of Islam. The Messenger of Allah has brought the teachings of Islam to more people in North America than any leader in the history of the continent.

In Wake of the Bloodiest War Algeria Answers the Cries of A Million Orphans

World's Greatest Youth Program

By

Charles P. Howard, Sr.

(HNS) UN and Foreign Correspondent

ALGIERS, Algeria — History may yet say that the greatest benefactors of the Algerian revolution have been the orphans.

There is not a government on record which inherited so tragic a problem as the thousands upon thousands of motherless and fatherless waifs, left destitute by one of the most ruthless and bloodiest wars in all history.

Today the tender concern exhibited by the revolutionary government, led by Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella, for these destitute children is bringing startling results.

THOUSANDS of children who saw their mothers and fathers gunned down in cold blood by Nazi-like French settlers bent on destroying what they could not hold, look upon Ahmed Ben Bella literally as both "father and mother."

Special homes for children, special schools for orphans, special adoption programs, and the best-trained doctors and sociologists in Algeria have been placed at the service of these orphaned youngsters.

Their integration into the mainstream of Algerian life has been all but guaranteed—and while this nation faces

The look of despair worn by this girl whose parents were killed fighting for Algerian freedom is now seldom seen. President Ben Bella's youth program has replaced tears with laughter among Algerian youth.

Algeria: Mother, Father to the Orphaned

AT THE CLOSE of Algeria's war against France, this young girl, and her small brother had no home. Such sights are now rare in Algeria.

staggering problems of reconstruction and development on every level, Algerian children will share more equally of the fruits of the new society than, perhaps, any youth in history.

THIS IS MY third trip to Algeria, and everywhere I go—in shops, schools, playgrounds, industries—I see the faces of these children. I see their "coaches" and "trainers," and on their faces I see a joy and eagerness; a confidence which rarely reaches the youth of many other more prosperous countries.

I was first in Algeria with the remnants of the FLN army that had gathered in Morocco for a return to its homeland after seven years of bruising combat with their former French masters.

Before it is possible to clearly see the direction in which the Algerian leadership is headed, it is well to first make an honest evaluation of the "Facts of life."

Before independence, powerful forces, in France in general and the OAS in Algeria in particular, wished to create a vacuum in the country which would prevent its successful functioning. Implementing this policy were more than 800,000 Frenchmen living in Algeria who represented 90 per cent of the civil servants, administrators and the heads of vital operations.

These people left the country. The new administration in Algeria had to and did meet this emergency and though there were temporary services and dislocations, the administration has and continues to function, proving once again that there is no "indispensable" man. This, despite the claim of the colonial powers that their continued presence is essential to orderly government and due process.

FURTHER, the country was physically and economically crippled. Vast areas had been devastated by war. More than a million Algerian men and women had to give their lives in the liberation struggle. More than two million Algerians had been uprooted from their homes and were without base or adequate sustenance.

The Evian Agreement did not give the Algerian people

WHEN ALGERIA'S freedom war was over, thousands of children like these were left without homes and parents. In a dynamic program to wipe out poverty these boys now have adequate complete and unfettered independence. Under this pact, the French government maintains its troops in Algeria during a given period, and is to dispose of the airports and atomic installations in the south of the country.

The military occupation, which will be reduced to 80,000 men at the end of the first year of self-determination, limits Algerian sovereignty.

The French minority in Algeria is given a position of preference and protection. This group, which supported the OAS almost to a man, constitutes a source of constant irritation.

THE NEW government taking over the country found it nearly poverty stricken, its blood sucked dry. And to add to this, 80 per cent of the people living in the countryside were illiterate.

How did the government led by Ben Bella begin to tackle this staggering problem? It began with all the able-bodied adults it could muster into a program and immediately set about rehabilitating and organizing the children.

Strangely enough, the presence and concern for these children seemed to inspire the adults to do their very best to throw off illiteracy; to build and work until they were bone tired, and to rise in the morning and work again—building a nation which would be—for the first time in their lives or the lives of their ancestors—their very own.

MOST OF THESE GIRLS were not born when Algerian Revolution against colonial rule began in November 1954. But because of the revolt, they will grow to womanhood in freedom. In photo, they celebrate Algerian Independence Day.

homes, clothing and food and are attending school and learning to be productive adults.

YOUNG BOYS CHEER for and surround President Ben Bella. They are former wards that the Ben Bella Youth Program took from the streets of Algeria.

THESE ARE FUTURE NURSES, parading through the streets of Algiers. Before Algeria won its independence the lives of these girls were hopeless. Now, color plays no part in how high an ambitious young person may rise.

Zanzibar Revolt May Spur Unity

Strong support for African liberation movement and cooperation, if possible, with both Washington and Moscow sums up the first policy statement of the new government of the Republic of Zanzibar. Above all, the new government indicates a keen interest in a federation with Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika.

Abdullah Kassim Hanga, Prime Minister of Zanzibar's revolutionary government, said the new regime's policy "is to have relations with all countries of the world."

He said that Zanzibar wants "to cooperate with everyone" and that "naturally, we support all African liberation movements."

The African majority of the island—22 miles off the eastern coast of Africa in the Indian Ocean—fed up with more than 2,500 years of second-class citizenship under minority rule, rose up and ousted the old regime in a six-hour revolution last week.

More than 600 revolutionaries of both the Afro-Shirazi and Umma Parties seized every important facility on Zanzibar Jan. 12 and immediately announced the formation of the new government.

Zanzibar's new president, Abeid Karume, 59-year-old labor leader, said:

"We have inaugurated the Republic of Zanzibar and Pemba". (Pemba is a nearby island governed by Zanzibar.)

Kenya and Uganda already have recognized the new regime, and other free

African nations are expected to quickly extend recognition to Zanzibar.

President Karume said his country was "delighted with the revolution."

An Associated Negro Press release pointed out that the "cause of the revolution" that unseated the sultan, Seyyid Jamshid Bin Abdullah, and Prime Minister Sheikh Mohammad Shante Hamadi and his cabinet was a "long-standing discontent of Africans with their treatment by the monarchy-type government . . . tension between the Africans and their ruler existed since 600 B.C."

"During the 19th Century," the ANP report continued, "the Arabs were among the chief dealers in African slaves, and Zanzibar was the center of a flourishing slave trade with ships plying the Indian Ocean."

The "last straw" was the Arab official's banning of the Black Umma Party. Sheikh Abdul Raman Mohammad, leader of the Umma Party, is now minister of External Affairs and Defense in the new government.

There are 45,000 Arabs in Zanzibar out of a total population of 340,000.

PRESIDENT BEN BELLA tells television audience of plans for his Youth Program as members of the Ben Bella Youth Corps stand on stage at TV station. Thousands of orphaned Algerian youths have been snatched from brink of disaster by youth program.

Town with 'No Race Problem'?

SYKESVILLE, Md.—Sykesville Mayor Bernard O. McDougall, who last August helped kill the formation of a human relations committee in Carroll County by telling the county commissioners that there was no race problem in Sykesville, admitted the existence of racial segregation in general and particularly in the service at his drug store.

Mrs. Jean S. Evans, a social worker at the Springfield State Hospital, and Bailey Conaway, an employee of the Baltimore city school system working at the Springfield project, said Mayor McDougall's drug store provides only "carry-out" service to Negroes.

The mayor admitted refusing service in his store to the Negroes. While admitting a policy of segregation, he claimed he was working toward integration, which he feels can be achieved in a year's time "without outside interference." He said this "outside interference" would delay integration efforts.

Mayor McDougall and five other Carroll County mayors told the county commissioners last summer that they had no race problems in their towns, which resulted in the commissioners announcing they would not form an official human relations commission, as had been suggested.

MONROVIA, Liberia—Dr. Stephen J. Wright, president of Fisk University, was here for a five-day participation as an official representative of the U. Post-Grad Medical School To Aid Nairobi Doctors

NAIROBI, Kenya — The Kenya government plans to establish a post-graduate medical school here next year to enable locally-qualified doctors to complete further specialist training without going abroad.

Dr. Njoroge Mungai, Minister of Health and Housing, said the school will be located at the King George VI Hospital and would provide Makerere Medical School graduates a place in East Africa to qualify for their specialist degrees.

Egypt Revolution Still A Beacon

a better life for the entire Arab world, it has set examples for oppressed peoples everywhere and is still one of the main forces aiding successful changes in other parts of the world.

Even before the success of modern Egypt, President Nasser had listed three "Circles of Strength" upon which Egypt would depend in its future action and policies. The first he saw as "The Arab Circle," the second as "The African continent circle" and the third as "The circle of our Brothers in Islam."

Of this last circle he said: "As I contemplate the 80 million Moslems in Indonesia, the 50 million in China, the millions in Malaysia, Thailand and Burma, the hundred million in Pakistan, the hundred million in the Middle East, the 40 million in the Soviet Union and the millions of others in other remote and far flung corners of the earth — I became increasingly conscious of the potential achievement cooperation among all these millions can accomplish..."

But on this trip I found solid indications that Egypt is now giving increasing attention to this "Second Circle," for there are more Africans here from nations South of the Sahara, in Egyptian schools, organizations, hotels, than in all the years of my previous visits.

Of this black circle, Nasser has said:

"The white man... is trying to change the map of the Continent. We surely can not under any conditions stand as mere onlookers, deducing ourselves into the belief that we are in no way concerned with their machinations."

Judging by the Addis Ababa Conference, the results of which I found still reverberating through this capital, and by the contributions Egypt is making to the militant struggles for the liberation of Angola and other enslaved areas, Egypt has no intentions of standing "idly by" until the last vestiges of imperialism and colonialism is wiped from the face of Africa.

I found the industrial progress of Egypt phenomenal — by any standards. Its communications, health and welfare facilities, agriculture, scientific research, sea transport activities, electricity and homebuilding; its bridge and road construction, its radio and television industries, its provisions for popular education for the masses of its peoples, has yet to be matched.

On the day of the revolution Egypt produced not a single iota of steel, but now its annual production of iron ore is more than 500 thousand tons. The average per capita income of its people have nearly doubled and its exports ratio has tripled.

But it is not only in material goods that I found Egypt rich and inspiring. Above all, the revolution of Egypt credits itself not simply with advancing Egypt for Egyptians but of sharing in the burden of building a new society for all.

This is the fervor which I found intact on my last visit, making this nation true to the knowledge of it revealed years ago by my father — that its achievements would be greater than those of the ancient pharaoh and of more benefit to all mankind.

We Need Not Fear

the Bible also prophesies of another scripture being given in the time of the judgment. Because the Holy Qur-an takes us up to the resurrection of the dead, but not beyond that.

"Warning a people whom no warner has come before that they may walk aright." It is directed at the American so-called Negroes in North America. As the Jesus comes close to revealing the whereabouts of the lost members of a great nation in these words: "That he was sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel, or in the house of Israel. He did not say that he was sent to the lost Israel, but to the lost sheep in the house of Israel. The lost sheep is not Israel. The lost sheep was in the house or government of Israel and was swallowed up by Israel so thoroughly that they were always overlooked.

But we just cannot overlook the prophecy of Ezekiel wherein he prophesies that God said "even I will go and search for them, and I will bring them again and settle them in their own land and among their own people."

This is referring to the so-called Negroes. And Isaiah says in his prophecy concerning us, that God said He would call them by a new name that He, Himself, would give them. One of His own names, and would take away the names of the enemy and would slay the enemy.

Let us remember that we must understand the truth of prophecy, the sayings of the Holy Qur-an and Bible on this subject, and then place it where it belongs and not try to fit it in some place where it does not belong.

Memorial Tribute to Du Bois February 23

NEW YORK — Plans for a memorial tribute to the late Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois on Sunday, Feb. 23, are gaining momentum across the country.

A special committee here of prominent Americans is arranging a memorial function at Carnegie Hall. Ossie Davis, actor and playwright, said the tribute will seek "to secure to the Afro-American consciousness the personality, image and cultural significance of the most illustrious Afro-American scholar of our time."

Meanwhile, the Chicago Negro History Council also is slating a tribute to Du Bois on the anniversary date of his birth.

Find Africa Plea in Old Mark Twain Book

The plea for justice for many of the people of Africa was sounded with eloquence 57 years ago by at least one eminent white writer who foresaw the "wind of change," Mark Twain.

THE NEW MAP OF AFRICA being studied here in a Kenyan classroom will never resemble the old colonial-dominated continent which was plundered and enslaved for centuries by European imperialists. These students know that many vital parts of Africa remain enslaved (South and South West Africa, Angola, etc.) and are determined to make the year 1964 the period of its final emancipation.

For And About You

By Harriett Muhammad

DEAR HARRIETT: I have a problem which I have been unable to solve — my husband. I never wanted to complain to anyone about him, but things seem to be getting worse.

He bullies my son and me whenever he feels like it, and he ignores questions I ask him, no matter how simple they are.

I help out by working, but he always tells me how little I do. No matter how tired I am, I go through the house cleaning. But he is constantly critical and jealous.

What am I to do? I am so mixed up I think I will go out of my mind. — DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: This society has kept our men in a status inferior to that of our women. Job opportunities aren't as good and wages are so low that the man must have his wife's help, though he may resent it.

Your husband probably is aware of his responsibilities and of the fact that he needs your help. His resentment is manifest in the statements he makes.

If you understand him, you will be able to find ways to build him up. Try to make him feel that he is necessary and important to you. Do a few extra things just for him — then watch his response.

Don't feel like your problem is an isolated case. It is created by the circumstances under which we live. We, as women, must do our part to see that our men feel like men.

DEAR HARRIETT: I have run all over Chicago looking for work, but all I can find requires living in the homes of white families. Being employed in this manner keeps me a way from religious services.

I have a friend whom I don't love and with whom I can't see any future, but he has been helping me.

There is another man in another city, working so that he can return and open a store for us. I love this man, but he told me he isn't going to marry me until I break off with this other man.

Tell me what to do.

—ANXIOUS

DEAR ANXIOUS: The fact that you work in the home of a white family should not keep you from putting forth a special effort to attend your religious services. There are many other women similarly employed who manage quite well.

As for the two men in your life—you have no real problem. You say there is no future with one man and you do not love him. Tell this man the facts, letting him know you appreciate his help, but that you are making plans to marry. This will qualify you for the man you love.

Negroes to Build Shopping Center on Slum-Cleared Site

A GROUP OF NEGRO physicians, who succeeded in winning the bid to build a million-dollar medical center on a four-acre tract on slum-cleared land—often referred to as "Negro-cleared" property—declared they will proceed with the construction of the project despite the enraged fury of sections of the white press and white realtors. A choice section from an urban renewal project, usually falling exclusively into the laps of white developers at practically "gift" rates, will be used by the South Central Medical Center Building, Inc., to house the only such Negro commercial development in the Midwest. Dr. William P. Quinn (left) points to some of the fine features of the medical and shopping center, which will cost an estimated $900,000 and will cover 163,000 square feet. Architectural Associates, with offices on State Street in the South Central section of the city, drew up the plans (right) of the center. The builders hope to encourage Negro youth to enter the business world through the development and eventual ownership of the shopping complex, to be built on Chicago's south side.

Mississippi Racists Stepped Up Violence in 1964

McCOMB, Miss.—In a new flurry of terrorism and violence against the continuing attempts of Negroes to register to vote, an auto load of white supremacists shot into Negro business establishments and fired on two Negro homes, wounding a Negro boy in night raids here.

Two civil rights organizations have urged the Federal government to send troops and marshals to Mississippi "to protect Negroes who want to exercise their constitutional rights." There are 15,405 Negroes in Pike County, where Mc-

Comb is the county seat. Only 3 per cent of vote-age Negroes are registered voters, according to the 1961 Civil Rights Commission Report on Voting. Negroes are 43 per cent of the county's population.

In Atlanta, Ga., John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, asked U. S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to "take all steps possible to insure that future acts of violence aimed at intimidating Mississippi Negroes are halted before they begin."

"If this means Federal marshals and Federal troops in Mississippi," Lewis' wire stated, "then you must be prepared to send them there before others are shot."

Meanwhile in Jackson, the Council of Federated Organizations asked President Lyndon B. Johnson to immediately "dispatch Federal troops to the McComb area to protect Negro constitutional rights."

In the telegram to Mr. Johnson, Robert Moses, head of SNCC's Mississippi vote drive and program director for COFO, said "white violence has again erupted in McComb in a renewed attempt to stifle Negroes in their drive to register to vote."

McArthur Cotton, the SNCC worker who directs voting activity in McComb, said four young white men in a white car fired shots into a Negro cafe, two grocery stores, a shoe repair shop and two Negro homes. One of the homes, he said, had been fired into two nights earlier.

Cotton said a young Negro boy in Summit, a suburb of McComb, was wounded in the leg by gunfire.

McComb Police Chief George Guy said the Negro youth was not seriously hurt, and claimed the shootings had no connection with the vote drive. Guy—who arrested voter registration workers in the past—said four young white men, students at South West Junior College, were arrested in connection with the shooting.

McComb has been the site of violence and intimidation by racists since the SNCC set up the first Mississippi vote project here in August, 1961. Moses was beaten and arrested while trying to guide Negroes to the vote registrar's office.

A vote worker was pistol whipped by a registrar in Waltham County and arrested for "inciting to riot." Attempts by local Negro students to integrate facilities in McComb resulted in the arrest of 109 persons.

A 14-year-old girl, Brenda Travis, spent four months in a reform school because of her integration efforts.

How Blacks Rocked Boston's White Cradle of Liberty

By Charles F. Fleming

(Muhammad Speaks
Correspondent)

BOSTON—The rent strikes from nearby New York may spread here during early 1964 to further rock the Boston "Cradle of Liberty" that was boldly swayed by freedom demanding Negroes during 1963.

Already CORE has launched a militant housing program aimed specifically at the many slum-lords here who have continued during 1963 to grow fat and wealthy by forcing hard-earned rent from thousands of blacks who live in a land of plenty but whose apartments are hovels that are a constant peril to their lives and well being.

AND ALREADY slum-dwelling tenants are being grouped together to make formal protests to these slum-lords. If corrective action is not then forthcoming CORE plans to direct full-scale rent strikes against this city's power structure of slum-lords, among others.

The proposed campaign against slum-lords takes on even greater dimensions when seen in the plight of the hundreds of Negroes who have been displaced by the Washington Park Urban Renewal project and who have not yet found low rent private housing as glibly promised.

It was in 1963 that the Boston Redevelopment Authority ty blandly agreed to erect private housing for re-settling persons in the low income brackets, which necessarily encompassed thousands of Negroes kept there by a white supremacist society. Now it is 1964 and this BRA project has bogged to a fact though not by law.

SOME SAY the hardest to-toe struggle, though it was not resolved last year to the satisfaction of civil rights fighters, served to demonstrate the militancy of Boston Negroes during 1963—a militancy which spilled over into fights for jobs, led by the Boston Action Group (BAG) which is currently picketing United Farmers Milk company charging anti-Negro hiring policies.

And so as Boston Negroes move into 1964, they carry battle scars won in the freedom struggle during 1963 and they also carry a determination that this year will see the "Cradle of Liberty" rocking for all of its children—including the Boston blacks.

BOSTON ACTION GROUP (BAG) is currently picketing the United Farmers Milk company, charging anti-Negro hiring policies. BAG has led the fight for equal job opportunity in Boston, called the "Cradle of Liberty," though obviously for white Bostonians only.

Will President Intervene For Framed Albany Five?

U.S. Prosecutes Innocent Negroes, Winks at Lynchers

ALBANY, Ga.—President Lyndon B. Johnson is being asked to undo injustice done to five civil rights fighters by all-white juries, with the help of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy's alleged "Justice" Department.

The shocking conviction of five leaders of the great Albany, Georgia, struggle against segregation by all-white juries has now emerged as one of the nation's most strongly protested travesties. The Federal government is credited with having prosecuted the Negro civil rights fighters more vigorously than any legal attack on a single lyncher.

The convicted persons include one who subsequently ran for Mayor of Albany, Slater King, president of the Albany Movement; Thomas Chatmon, the Rev. Samuel Wells, Robert Thomas and a New York student, Miss Joni Rabinowitz.

Slater King said after the sentencing:

"It is interesting that white segregationists can bomb, murder and plunder at will and with the knowledge that they will not be punished by the courts, but black men must face death daily—and even persecution by the Federal government—in attempting to obtain their constitutionally guaranteed rights."

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., has said of the Albany case:

"It is tragic that the only instance in which the government has moved with vigor has been against Negro leaders who have been working to remove the evil system of segregation."

The perjury charges in the case against the Albany defendants grew out of an investigation by a Federal Grand Jury last summer. The jury was investigating the picketing of a grocery store in Albany's Negro district owned by a white man, Carl Smith.

Jackson

Miss Rabinowitz was charged with perjury for saying she was not at the scene of the picketing; the others were charged with misstatements about various inconsequential matters, including a question as to whether they attended a meeting in a lawyer's office.

The reason the Federal Grand Jury was investigating the picketing of Carl Smith's store in the first place was his claim that the picketing was in retaliation for his vote on a Federal jury in a previous case. Civil rights forces said the picket line was be-

Rev. Wells

Thomas

Chatmon

Rabinowitz

cause the grocer refused to hire Negroes except in menial jobs.

As the case has become more complicated, the public has tended to forget the original case which started it all—the one in which Carl Smith was a juror. Actually, this was the first atrocity in the whole chain of events.

It was an historic case in itself, because in it a Negro had gone into court to sue a white man, the sheriff of nearby Baker County, who, he said, beat and shot him while he was under arrest.

As many had feared and expected, all of the jurors (including Carl Smith, of course) ruled in favor of the sheriff and against the Negro.

The contrast between the outcome of this case and the cases of the Albany rights leaders charged with perjury indicates that it is as hard to get a fair trial in Southern U.S. courts as in Southern state courts. The fault is in the jury system, and the Albany cases spotlight the fact that Federal jury selection is as discriminatory as state jury selection.

All of the cases are being appealed. Mrs. Goldie Jackson, secretary of the Albany Movement, was to be tried in January on a similar perjury charge.

Free Bombers In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Charges will not be placed against three National Guardsmen who admitted exploding a bomb to stir racial trouble in Birmingham last October, Detective Lieutenant Maurice House said last week.

The bomb, three sticks of dynamite taped together, was detonated in a field near a South Side Negro district. The exact date and location of the explosions were not known by those who heard the blast, Jefferson Deputy Solicitor Joe Bernard told investigators. He added that police can establish the date an explosion occurred, but no location.

The guardsmen had confessed to the act.

Negro Students Continue To Get--

A TASTE OF JAIL

By Jermiah Shabazz
(Muhammad Speaks
Correspondent)

ATLANTA, Ga.—While white high school and college students continue to achieve their highest off-campus notoriety in "pajama raids" and "beach riots," the major activity of Negro high school, college and even grammar school students continue to be marked by the phenomena clashing political and civic demonstrations and a taste of jail.

One major rights organization here estimates that by September of 1963 more than 25,000 Negro children under the age of 18 had been jailed or suspended from schools for political reasons during a five year period.

Growing political orientation of students of African origin recently picked up here in Atlanta, the alleged sophisticated "advanced" city of the deep South.

They found themselves treated as brutally as Negro students in the "most backward" city of Birmingham after they clashed with police and city officials in their efforts to hasten the doom of traditional injustices against black peoples here.

Picking up where Birmingham left off, Negro students mostly from Washington high school, threw their weight behind civil rights demonstrations and now have been suspended by Dr. R. W. Stephens, the deputy superintendent of schools.

"It's not technically a suspension," Dr. Stephens said, "but it amounts to practically the same thing."

Some 150 administrators, including the students, had gone to the office of Atlanta's Mayor Ivan Allen, Jr., demanding an end to the overcrowding in Negro schools and of the other inferior facilities.

They had joined demonstrations at segregated eating places with the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights.

The suspended students, "at least 79," received a notice telling them they must bring one or both parents to the school for "consultation" with the principal before they will be re-admitted.

In May, 1963, the Birmingham school officials suspended large numbers of students for participating in protests there, but a Federal Judge ordered them re-admitted.

But across the nation the almost eager entry of increasing numbers of younger Negroes into the struggle against traditional injustices continues in almost awesome proportions, the incubator for a new and struggle-tested breed.

Ministers Plead for Mrs. Mallory

CLEVELAND, Ohio — A group of this city's leading ministers appealed directly to Ohio Gov. James Rhodes to vacate the extradition of Mrs. Mae Mallory to Monroe, N.C., where she and four others face charges of "kidnapping" growing out of a white supremacist attack on Negroes in the little North Carolina town in 1961.

ATLANTA HIGH SCHOOL students aided by national leaders, launch massive drive demanding an end to injustices against the Negro people.

The ministers said they were acting solely in the interest of humanity in the belief that Mrs. Mallory could not receive a fair trial in the Southern town.

Mrs. Mallory's attorney has exhausted all legal appeals, the last being rejected by the U. S. Supreme Court. Governor Rhodes has the "complete executive prerogative" to free the 35-year-old mother and freedom fighter.

OUTLOOK IN NEW YORK

Rent Ruling Could Launch New Era for Slum Dwellers

By Sylvester Leaks
(Muhammad Speaks Correspondent)

NEW YORK—Outlook here is that the recent court ruling that tenants may live rent-free as long as landlords refuse to eliminate housing dangers which threaten their lives, could lead to a new era in living—especially among slum dwellers.

The decision handed down by Judge Fred G. Moritt went far beyond a previous ruling by another judge who in essence "legalized" the Rent Strike but ordered the striking tenants to pay their rents to the court until landlords made repairs.

It was seen by many as legal endorsement of the already highly successful Rent Strike being conducted here in Harlem by the Community Council on Housing.

Meanwhile tenants are joining the Rent Strike in droves from all parts of the City. Already efforts are being made to defuse it.

Many believe that Mayor Wagner, with an eye toward the elections and an antenna in his ear which detects more than just a "rumbling at the grass roots," was attempting to defuse the issue when he proposed that the State Legislature pass a law permitting a majority of tenants in a building certified

Tells Rights Leaders: Get Into Politics

NEW YORK—An attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said here that leaders in the civil rights fight should "enter the political power structure."

as a threat to public health to pay their rents into a special fund. The City would use this fund to make the necessary repairs.

Observers correctly point out that the City already has the authority to take over slum dwellings under the Receivership Law and make repairs out of rents collected.

"It is time," said Constance Baker Motley, the NAACP lawyer who played a major role in getting James H. Meredith into the University of Mississippi, "that leaders in the civil rights movement enter the political power structure by becoming active in politics." Mrs. Motley made the statement in announcing that she will run for the New York state senatorial seat vacated by Sen. James L. Watson, who resigned to become a state Supreme Court justice.

Active in the civil rights struggle for about 18 years, Mrs. Motley is associate counsel for the Legal and Educational Fund of the NAACP.

Foreign Students Support Struggle For Freedom

TWO OF A GROWING NUMBER OF FOREIGN students taking active part in the American Negro's struggle for freedom, equality and justice. Michael Babatundá Olatunji (left), in an unprecedented campaign of cross-country appearances at theaters and bazaars, always closes by delivering a message of dignity and freedom for peoples of African descent. Olatunji, Nigerian student at Columbia University, recently performed at a bazaar in Muhammad's Mosque in Philadelphia. Tom Wakayama (right) of Japan, student from the University of Ontario in Canada, has joined the freedom fight by taking part in demonstrations by the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee in the south.

$100 Million Plan to Fight Youth Problems in Harlem

NEW YORK—A one hundred million dollar plan to combat juvenile delinquency and other related problems of Harlem and its youth was completed recently after 18 months of study by Harlem Youths Opportunities Unlimited (HARYOU).

The study was financed under a grant from the Federal government and New York City. The program will be submitted to the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency.

The plan, considered to be the most revolutionary ever conceived in depth and scope, is designed to get at the roots and core of the social, political and economic ills which breed delinquency, low school achievement, narcotics addiction, unwed mothers, etc.

Other features of the plan include (1) pre-school academies to begin training youngsters from ages 3-5; (2) provide marketable skills for youths, and (3) staff the academies with persons from the community trained by HARYOU.

The $100,000,000 is expected to be obtained from the Federal government, state and city, plus private sources.

The Messenger of Allah Presents

The Muslim Program

What the Muslims Want

This is the question asked most frequently by both the whites and the blacks. The answers to this question I shall state as simply as possible.

1. We want freedom. We want a full and complete freedom.

2. We want justice. Equal justice under the law. We want justice applied equally to all, regardless of creed or class or color.

3. We want equality of opportunity. We want equal membership in society with the best in civilized society.

4. We want our people in America whose parents or grandparents were descendants from slaves, to be allowed to establish a separate state or territory of their own—either on this continent or elsewhere. We believe that our former slave masters are obligated to provide such land and that the area must be fertile and mineral rich. We believe that our former slave masters are obligated to maintain and supply our needs in this separate territory for the next 20 to 25 years—until we are able to produce and supply our own needs.

Since we cannot get along with them in peace and equality, after giving them 400 years of our sweat and blood and receiving in return some of the worst treatment human beings have ever experienced, we believe our contributions to this land and the suffering forced upon us by white America, justifies our demand for complete separation in a state or territory of our own.

5. We want freedom for all Believers of Islam now held in federal prisons. We want freedom for all black men and women now under death sentence in innumerable prisons in the North as well as the South.

We want every black man and woman to have the freedom to accept or reject being separated from the slave master's children and establish a land of their own.

We know that the above plan for the solution of the black and white conflict is the best and only answer to the problem between two people.

6. We want an immediate end to the police brutality and mob attacks against the so-called Negro throughout the United States.

We believe that the Federal government should intercede to see that black men and women tried in white courts receive justice in accordance with the laws of the land—or allow us to build a new nation for ourselves, dedicated to justice, freedom and liberty.

7. As long as we are not allowed to establish a state or territory of our own, we demand not only equal justice under the laws of the United States, but equal employment opportunities—NOW!

We do not believe that after 400 years of free or nearly free labor, sweat and blood, which has helped America become rich and powerful, that so many thousands of black people should have to subsist on relief, charity or live in poor houses.

8. We want the government of the United States to exempt our people from ALL taxation as long as we are deprived of equal justice under the laws of the land.

9. We want equal education—but separate schools up to 16 for boys and 18 for girls on the condition that the girls be sent to women's colleges and universities. We want all black children educated, taught and trained by their own teachers.

Under such schooling system we believe we will make a better nation of people. The United States government should provide, free, all necessary text books and equipment, schools and college buildings. The Muslim teachers shall be left free to teach and train their people in the way of righteousness, decency and self respect.

10. We believe that intermarriage or race mixing should be prohibited. We want the religion of Islam taught without hinderance or suppression.

These are some of the things that we, the Muslims, want for our people in North America.

What the Muslims Believe

1. WE BELIEVE in the One God Whose proper Name is Allah.

2. WE BELIEVE in the Holy Qur-an and in the Scriptures of all the Prophets of God.

3. WE BELIEVE in the truth of the Bible, but we believe that it has been tampered with and must be reinterpreted so that mankind will not be snared by the falsehoods that have been added to it.

4. WE BELIEVE in Allah's Prophets and the Scriptures they brought to the people.

5. WE BELIEVE in the resurrection of the dead—not in physical resurrection—but in mental resurrection. We believe that the so-called Negroes are most in need of mental resurrection; therefore, they will be resurrected first.

Furthermore, we believe we are the people of God's choice, as it has been written, that God would choose the rejected and the despised. We can find no other persons fitting this description in these last days more than the so-called Negroes in America. We believe in the resurrection of the righteous.

6. WE BELIEVE in the judgement; we believe this first judgement will take place, as God revealed, in America.

7. WE BELIEVE this is the time in history for the separation of the so-called Negroes and the so-called white Americans. We believe the black man should be freed in name as well as in fact. By this we mean that he should be freed from the names imposed upon him by his former slave masters. Names which identified him as being the slave master's slave. We believe that if we are free indeed, we should go in our own people's names—the black peoples of the earth.

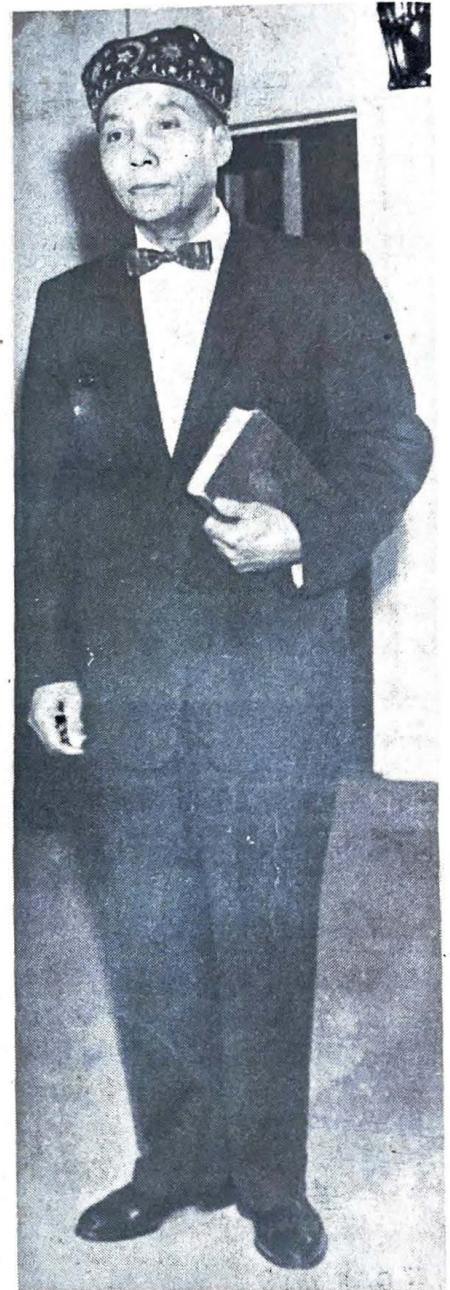

8. WE BELIEVE in justice for all, whether in God or not; we believe as others, that we are due equal justice as human beings. We believe in equality—as a nation—of equals. We do not believe that we are equal with our slave masters in the status of "freed slaves."

We recognize and respect American citizens as independent peoples and we respect their laws which govern this nation.

9. WE BELIEVE that the offer of integration is hypocritical and is made by those who are trying to deceive the black peoples into believing that their 400-year-old open enemies of freedom, justice and equality are, all of a sudden, their "friends." Furthermore, we believe that such deception is intended to prevent black people from realizing that the time in history has arrived for the separation from the whites of this nation.

If the white people are truthful about their professed friendship toward the so-called Negro, they can prove it by dividing up America with their slaves.

We do not believe that America will ever be able to furnish enough jobs for her own millions of unemployed, in addition to jobs for the 20,000,000 black people as well.

10. WE BELIEVE that we who declared ourselves to be righteous Muslims, should not participate in wars which takes the lives of humans. We do not believe this nation should force us to take part in such wars, for we have nothing to gain from it unless America agrees to give us the necessary territory wherein we may have something to fight for.

11. WE BELIEVE our women should be respected and protected as the women of other nationalities are respected and protected.

12. WE BELIEVE that Allah (God) appeared in the Person of Master W. Fard Muhammad, July, 1930; the long-awaited "Messiah" of the Christians and the "Mahdi" of the Muslims.

We believe further and lastly that Allah is God and besides HIM there is no God and He will bring about a universal government of peace wherein we all can live in peace together.
